SCHOOL NOTES.

The Seniors and Juniors will have a football game tomorrow.

The high school boys and girls are organizing basket ball teams and expect to rent a hall down town to play in.

The Seniors have organized a literary society and expect to have some good debates and other entertainments this winter.

The class of 1914 have presented the English department with a new bookcase and the business department with a new table.

A cereal company has sent several boxes of Post Toasties and other cereals to the school which are being distributed among the pupils.

Rev. J. W. Clark, who is to lecture at the Christian church, spoke Thursday morning to the high school pupils at assembly on Astronomy.

Miss Fern Veerkamp, teacher in the Teachers' Training department, who has been ill, is improving and expects to be able to return to work next Monday.

The teachers' study class has been divided into two sections this year.
The high school teachers are studying Clark's School Administration and the grade teachers have taken up Strayer & Colgrove's methods.

The Sophomores are preparing a program to be given Friday evening at the high school auditorium. They will have good music, readings and will close with a play, "G. Mason, M.
D." which will occupy forty-five minutes. Ten cents admission will be charged.

On November 20 a general teachers meeting will be held at the high school auditorium in the evening at which Prof. Irion, sociologist and physiologist in the Springfield State Normal school, will give an address.
Besides the teachers, the Parent-Teachers' Association, citizens and patrons of the school are very cordially invited to attend. The lecture will be of much interest to all concerned in teaching and rearing children.

NOTICE!

All parties in debt to me will please call and settle at once, either by cash or note, or their accounts will be placed in hands of an officer for collection.

Oiling the Street.

The citizens of Central avenue are oiling the street for the second time this season. This time it will be oiled to the south railroad track, several more of the citizens in that part of town contributing. The oiling of Central avenue has been such a success that it is expected the citizens on other streets will oil next year.

Men! Have you looked at those new Overcoats that "Gulick's" are showing this season? In their stock is a coat to suit everybody. The quality is the best that can be bought. You are sure to be pleased with them.
Come in and see them.

Liberty Church.

Rev. L. A. Smith will preach at Liberty M. P. church, Sunday, November 15.

Singing Normal at Liberty Church.

Prof. Ramsey, of Little Rock, Ark., is conducting a singing normal at Liberty M. P. church, north of town.
They meet every day and have a good attendance.

Mulkey Produce Company Dissolves.

The Mulkey Produce company have dissolved partnership and each of the principals, John Mulkey and L. A.
Smith, will go into business for himself.

Mr. Smith will stay in the building, corner of Broadway and Third, and will handle poultry, eggs, hides, etc.

Mr. Mulkey will go into the wholesale fruit and vegetable business. He will occupy a building on Broadway until he can build nearer the railroad track.

None in Missouri.

Columbia, Mo., Nov. 11.—D. F.
Lucky, state veterinarian at Columbia has issued a bulletin declaring that no case of foot and mouth disease has been found in Missouri.

"Cattle owners are strongly urged to keep cool," says the bulletin. "Do not rush cattle to market or sell them for a cent less than they are worth.
There is a chance that some stock cars from the infected districts may be in this state. It is, therefore, very important that every stock car be cleaned and disinfected before it is used for the shipment of stock."

PAY YOUR TAXES

I will be at the Monett State Bank building in Monett, Monday and Tuesday, November 16 and 17 to collect personal and real estate taxes. Bring your old tax receipts or a description of property with you to avoid delay and errors.

H. O. ABERNATHY,
County Collector.

Judge McNatt Instructs Grand Jury.

Immediately after the regular November term of the circuit court was opened Monday Judge Carr McNatt proceeded to instruct the grand jury that it might organize and begin its work.

The court instructed the jury that the main object for the jury being called was to investigate the elec-tionary and penal institutions of the county and to investigate the county offices, records, papers, etc.
He called special attention to the duty of the grand jury to investigating any and all violations of the law as provided in the statutes. Among the other matters to which he called attention was the violation of the local option law, game law, gambling, and other violations of vital interest to society. Following the customary instructions given by the court to the jury they went to their room for their work.

F. S. Whittington of McDonald township was appointed by the court as foreman. The jury selected Cass Jeffries of Jenkins for its secretary.
The members of the jury are:

J. W. Strother, J. G. Phillips, R. E.
Stephenson, J. J. Reynaud, Robert Montgomery, Charles Vaughn, Wm.
Sharp, Samuel Blythe, George Steaver, N. H. McDougal, Cass Jeffries and F. S. Whittington.—Cassville Republican.
